Is it Kosher for Passover?

Rabbi Nancy Myers

April 2017

“And you shall observe the Feast of Unleavened Bread; for in this same day have I brought your ranks out of the land of Egypt; therefore shall you observe this day in your generations by an ordinance forever. In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month at evening, you shall eat unleavened bread, until the twenty first day of the month at evening. Seven days shall there be no leaven found in your houses; for whoever eats that which is leavened, that soul shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel, whether he is a stranger, or born in the land. You shall eat nothing leavened; in all your habitations shall you eat unleavened bread.” Exodus 12:17-20

Passover is one the most widely observed Jewish holidays. Sitting with family and friends enjoying the Passover seder, hearing the four questions, eating matza ball soup, and looking for the afikoman captivates children as well as adults. It is at this time of year, surprisingly, I get the most questions about foods that are kosher for Passover. Within our own community people keep Passover in differing ways. Some only eat matzah at the seder while others try to keep the Passover laws during the entire week. Some eat corn, rice, and beans during Passover while others avoid these things along with all their derivatives such as corn starch, oils, and syrups. As a Reform rabbi, I don't normally get many questions about kashrut but they seem to come up more at this time of year.

The Torah tells us to eat unleavened bread during Passover and to avoid eating and having anything that is hametz, i.e. leavened, in our homes. But what is leaven? In Mishneh Pesachim 2:5 (a 3rd century CE rabbinical work), we are told that in order to fulfill our obligation on Passover we must eat unleavened wheat, barley, spelt, rye and oats. This is because these are the very same products that have the potential to become hametz if not scrupulously watched in their initial preparation. What makes our matzah kosher for Passover is that it has been carefully timed from the moment water came into contact with the wheat to prevent any 'leavening' from occurring. So any food without a Kosher for Passover symbol containing wheat, barley, spelt, rye and oats is considered hametz and is strictly forbidden during Passover.

I have to say that it's fairly easy to avoid spelt. What is spelt anyway? Barley is not found in many products. Abstaining from rye bread isn't much of an imposition. Oats can be more difficult but most of us can forgo oatmeal for breakfast. It is wheat though that makes things challenging. What this means is no wheat pasta, bread, crackers, cereals, soy sauce (yes, I was seriously bummed to learn that it contains wheat), snacks, and etc.

What about corn, peanuts, peas, millet, lentils, and rice? Now, this gets to be a bit more complicated but it all comes down to whether you are or want to observe Ashkenazi (East European) or Sephardic (Spanish) customs.

The Ashkenazi rabbis beginning in the 13th century decided to add legumes and seeds to the list of prohibitions while the Sephardic rabbis did not. What is the reason given for the additional stringency of our Eastern European ancestors? Firstly, rice and legumes could be cooked in such a way as to resemble the five forbidden grains so that if one eats a rice cake, for example, they may accidentally eat a wheat one. Secondly, the five grains could get mixed up with rice or legumes in the fields or packaging, especially in a pre-modern setting and therefore, we should avoid them. The last reason is "keeping the traditions of our ancestors", namely, because our grandparents observed Passover in this way, we should continue with the practice.

On other hand, our Mishneh states quite clearly that only wheat, rye, oat, spelt, and barely can become hametz, i.e. leavened. In the Talmud Pesachim 35a, we learn that rice and millet cannot become leavened, they can only decay or spoil, therefore they are not considered hametz. Maimonides, in the Middle Ages, also emphasized that only the five grains are prohibited. "Rice, millet, beans, lentils and the like, though, cannot become hametz; even if one kneads rice flour or the like in boiling water and covers it with a cloth until it swells up like dough which has fermented, this is permitted for eating on Passover." (See Chametz Umatzah 5:1 and Artscroll "The Festivals in Halachah") Since corn, beans, and legumes are not considered hametz then of course their oils and by products would be considered suitable for Passover.

So what will it be? A Sephardic Passover or Ashkenazi? Hmmmm, the decision of course is yours alone. And remember it's only for 7 days anyway.... Chag Sameach!

Moving Toward our New Program Year

I know it is only Passover, but before we know it, the new program year will be upon us. As always, we will warmly invite our past members to rejoin, and our prospective members to become a part of our special TBD family. Together, we remember our Jewish ancestors and honor our family and friends; we celebrate life cycle events, Jewish holidays and festivals, and take joy in one another's blessings; we grow through education, spirituality, music, activities, and comradery. Guests who visit TBD are often struck by how caring, spirited, and wonderfully diverse our members are, and how fortunate we are to have such spiritual, kind and responsive clergy and staff.

But TBD needs your help to continue those sacred activities. It is true that TBD has historically relied upon revenue from membership dues based upon set schedules (such as age and stage of life) in order to meet our budgetary needs. We know, however, that your giving and your generosity should not be based upon a mathematical formula; but rather, what your heart inspires you to give and what your means allow. In the hopes of being more inclusive by removing any barriers to membership, TBD will now be relying upon each of you to make voluntary philanthropic contributions in order to help us meet our budgetary needs, and to keep us in existence. As you receive the new program year membership materials in the coming weeks, you will see what TBD's operating budget is and what each of you can do to help. In so doing, we hope to inspire our current, past, and prospective members to become active in our synagogue, irrespective of their financial abilities.

While our contribution structure will now be moving to a voluntary model, our need remains very real. In that way, we are no different than the Israelites during the time of Moses who, the Torah tells us, desired to build a sanctuary (a mishkan) where they could come together and worship

God. To make that vision a reality, Moses asked anyone whose hearts so moved them to contribute to the building of the mishkan. The Torah tells us how the Israelites stepped forward and each gave to the best of their ability; so much so that Moses ended up having more than enough to build our people's first house of worship. We hope that each of you will be equally moved to not only sustain our synagogue today, but to do your part to strengthen the Reform Jewish movement for our children, to ensure the survival of the Jewish people, and to honor past generations of Jews who have done the same for you and our greater community.

We have been blessed at TBD with members who already generously contribute their resources and their time to make our synagogue a home where Judaism flourishes. When everyone gives what they can, we remain able to sustain a synagogue that has a great pre-school and religious school, an amazing music program, active Brotherhood and Sisterhood, meaningful adult education programs, memorable holiday observances, and the list goes on and on. As our new program year begins, if you have the means, please consider joining (or rejoining) the Circle of Honor. If you have been especially blessed during the past year(s), please consider increasing your commitment.

We look forward to sharing a meaningful year with you as, together, we remember, celebrate, and grow.

Sincerely,

President

With the Yom Hashoah observance occurring on April 24 and a Temple Beth David service of it on April 25, the Brotherhood is providing yellow candles to our members. Each candle is in a yellow bag with a focus on the remembrance of the six million Jews murdered by the Nazis during World War II.

The candles were given out to those attending the March 19 Brotherhood Brunch. They will be provided at our Shabbat services and also delivered to the homes of our members.

Using the candles in remembrance of the Holocaust, you should light them, read a poem, state a blessing of remembrance regarding our people who were killed because of being Jewish, and discuss it with your children. With that I say, "Amen!"

On May 14, the Brotherhood will be honoring all of our mothers at a Mother's Day Brunch. Every mother will receive a wonderful free meal based upon the recognition of all that they have done for their family. Plus, they will be given a beautiful rose by us in honor of the holiday observance.

Along with the above, the Junior Choir led by Sharon Matalon, will be singing to you and for you during the brunch session. A true song delight for every mom!!

Looking at the poster, it is important that you make your reservations ASAP by May 10 so there will be room for your attendance. We want every mother to have a seat, a meal, and a rose at the Brotherhood Mother's Day Brunch! See you then!!!

By Charlie Niederman

Association of Reform Zionists of America

April 2017

Charlie Niederman, VP, Planning & Development

During March, Israel's ruling coalition continued to show signs of stress. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu and Finance Minister Moshe Kahlon came into direct conflict over the replacement of the existing public broadcasting authority with an entirely new one. While it lasted only 24 hours it raised the issue of early elections. At this point no party leader in the coalition is willing to take that step, least of all the far right parties. However they are staking out positions to put themselves in a favorable light when the time comes. Regular elections are not scheduled until November 2019. According to the Jerusalem Post Moshe Kahlon, leader of the Kulanu party that he founded as a breakaway from the Netanyahu led Likud party, does want to make his mark as a leader in finance. Former Foreign Minister Lieberman is staking out his position as a pragmatic mainstream right leader, while Bennett's Jewish Home Party in recent polls shows that it could gain 3 new seats if the election were held now.

One of the reasons that Netanyahu might consider a new election is that it could delay, or eliminate the possibility of his criminal indictment, anticipated shortly, on charges of receipt of significant gifts from businessmen, and for limiting competition in the press in exchange for positive coverage. The other reason is that the US administration is giving off signals in ongoing discussions that it may not be as far from past US positions than was proclaimed during the campaign. The moving of the US Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem is on hold, and there are now indications of ongoing discussions on the US not opposing a plan for building in the short term on the West Bank in return for a freeze on future construction; a major shift in the administration's position. A new election would delay any negotiations. The two state solution may yet come out of hibernation. The Jerusalem Post also reports that Palestinian Authority President, Mahmoud Abbas, said on Monday in Brussels that the new initiative by US President Donald Trump to attempt to resolve the Israeli-Palestinian conflict holds promise. He said, "We are hoping the people of Israel will not miss this opportunity to make peace." Abbas will attend the Arab League meeting in Jordan. President Trump's Special Representative for International Negotiations Jason Greenblatt, who has spent the last two weeks meeting with Israelis and Palestinians, will attend as an observer.

On March 7, 2017, the Israeli Knesset approved legislation aimed at barring supporters of the BDS (boycott, divestment, and sanctions) movement from entering the country. It applies to anyone who knowingly issues a public call to boycott Israel that has a reasonable possibility of leading to a boycott. In addition to applying to those who call for boycotts against Israel, the bill also prohibits entry to those who support boycotts against Israeli institutions as well as settlements. The bill was roundly criticized by organizations inside and beyond Israel. The US Anti-Defamation League expressed that the law violates basic democratic rules of an open society. American Jewish Committee, a staunch friend of Israel, said the law hurts rather than helps the Anti-BDS efforts. One special note is that Anat Hoffman, founding member and Director of the Women of the Wall, and the Executive Director of the Israel Religious Action Center (IRAC) of Israel's Reform Movement visited Southern California in March. She attended Chapman University's Rodgers Center for Holocaust Education's Annual Art and Writing award ceremony as the guest of our own Frieda Caplan. Frieda invited Cathy and me to join them. Anat was witty and bright and willing to discuss her role in Israeli Society. Under her leadership IRAC has become a leader in challenging and winning court cases to promote pluralism, fight sex discrimination, and achieve democratic treatment for all Israel's residents. Possibly one day we can have her speak at Temple Beth David.

Charlie Niederman

The Library should be finished in about 6 months. Stay tuned as there will be some sort of celebration on a Sunday afternoon open to the congregation. The Orange County Jewish Genealogy Society is having two meetings at Temple Beth David. Sunday May 21st at 1:30 pm we are having Joel Weintraub of Dana Point CA speak on the 1950 United States Census which will be open to the public in 2022. There is a 72 year right to privacy law so federal censuses can not be made available for 72 years after they are given. Tuesday June 6th at 7:00 pm Daniel Horowitz of Israel of MyHeritage will be speaking on Whats New in MyHeritage. MyHeritage is a genealogical family tree and database just like Ancestry.Com. April 23rd at 1:30 pm at Temple Bat Yahm in Newport Beach We are having Schelly Talalay Dardashti of New Mexico speak on Finding Your Sephardic and Mizrahi Ancestors. Schelly is the Moderator of Tracing the Tribe: Jewish Genealogy on Facebook.

SHE'S BEAUTIFUL WHEN SHE'S ANGRY

A FILM BY MARY DORE & NANCY KENNEDY

"ONE OF THE YEAR'S BEST FILMS.
AN URGENT, ILLUMINATING DIVE INTO SECOND-WAVE FEMINISM."

—Alan Scherstahl,
Village Voice

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17TH AT 7:00PM DISCUSSION GROUP TO FOLLOW

A documentary that resurrects the buried history of the outrageous, often brilliant women who founded the modern women's movement.

Filmmaker Mary Dore chronicles the events, the movers and the shakers of the feminist movement from 1966 to 1971.

Goodshop

Goodsearch

To Our Temple Beth David Family:

As most of you are aware, our Temple depends on donations to deliver the high quality of services to all of you. We understand that many of you are still struggling with the recent economic downturn. However, we have come up with a way that will allow you to donate to the Temple without spending a penny of your own money, plus you will actually save money on many purchases that you normally make!

We would like to introduce you to Goodshop and Goodsearch. Goodshop works with more than 5,000 stores that will provide all of you with discounts on what you normally buy and then will donate up to 20% of the purchase price to the Temple. You will simply click on a link on the Temple Home Page, start saving money for your family and help the Temple out as well! We have included an easy step-by-step signup guide with this letter. Here are some examples of companies that participate in the program:

Target, Macy's, Nordstrom, Neiman Marcus, Sears, Sak's, Apple, Old Navy, the Gap, Amazon, Office Depot, Petco, Staples, Dell, The Limited, Holiday Inn, Groupon, Levi's, Lands End, Best Buy, 1-800 Flowers, 24 Hour Fitness, and Victoria's Secret.

These are companies that we all normally shop at, and by simply clicking on the link on the Temple website, you will be saving money for your family and actually raising money for the Temple. In addition, you can also save money by dining out at participating restaurants and, at the same time, raising donations for the Temple as well. It's simple, free and easy to use, and the average family using the site over a year will actually raise more than $350 annually for the Temple. Multiply that by our 300 families and we will raise more than $100,000 per year for the Temple! This program really works. Goodshop has raised more than $11 million for charitable organizations with this program.

Likewise, we are also rolling out Goodsearch. By doing your internet searches through Goodsearch.com, which links with Yahoo, the Temple will receive a penny for every internet search. If you can imagine how many internet searches you do, and your families do, this will also add up to real money for the Temple.

We encourage all of you to participate and to help strengthen our Temple for all of us and for the generations to come.

With best regards,

Neil Kornswiet
