Our Trip to Israel was Amazing!

Rabbi Nancy Myers

May 2018

I was joined by Gale Brooks, Gayle Chait, Kathleen Greenough, Anne Hoogasian, Lynne Horn, Judy Lorber, Cathy & Charlie Niederman, Florence Sudakow, Christine Taxier, Eileen Tobey, and Jackie & Rachel Wiggins.

At the Western Wall, known as the Kotel

We explored the roots of Christianity, Islam, and Judaism in our holy land. Traversing the countryside, we learned about the immense efforts for coexistence, tolerance, and the pursuit of peace. How amazing it was for us to be in Israel as the whole country celebrated its seventieth birthday! The trip had an immense amount of meaning for all of us.

SISTERHOOD MATTERS...

We are looking forward to our annual donor luncheon. By now you have received your raffle tickets and, if not, please contact Sue LeBoff and she will mail them to you. There will be entertainment and great raffle and door prizes.

May 17th is our bunco game. It is a time to “kick back” for some fun and good conversation and tasty desserts. Come and relax. Let Anne Farber know if you can join us so there will be enough desserts and snacks.

April 29th was our Paint ‘n Sip; event. It is amazing that we all painted the same picture but no two are exactly alike! We all had a fun, relaxing afternoon. Thank you Ai Resnick for planning this event.

Plan to attend the Shavuot Community Harvest Festival to be held on May 19th at the Temple sponsored by the Sisterhood. It will be loads of fun and tasty, too.

Sisterhood Area Day for our district will be held July 8th at Valley Village from 9-3pm. The registration fee is $36.00 and Sisterhood can help with that. Let Eileen Tobey know if you would like to attend.

Thought for this month;

Sisterhood is a community of women of various ages, backgrounds and interests who get together during the year to support each other as well as Temple Beth David.

HAPPY MOTHER’S DAY.

The sad situation on the Gaza border continues sporadically from last month. Hamas recruits rioters to destroy the border fence and enter Israel as part of their demands on Israel to allow the return of all Palestinians who withdrew or were driven from their homes during the war for Israel's independence. Israel has long rejected the demand on the basis that many left voluntarily and that Israel had to absorb the Jews who were forced to emigrate from Arab nations in the early years of Israel's statehood. The question of Palestinian return will need to be part of comprehensive peace negotiations. During our Temple's recent Israel trip Cathy and I visited my cousin's family. Their opinion generally was that Hamas cannot be trusted, but they were troubled by the use of live ammunition that killed demonstrators, often children positioned intentionally near the fence.

The Temple's trip added insights into today's Israel that I will try to share. We began in Jerusalem which is a centerpiece for the three Abrahamic religions, Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. As such it has strong international overtones, and differs in many ways from the rest of Israel. The first evening we had our Shabbat service overlooking the Old City. During Shabbat we toured the Christian and part of the Muslim quarters with a Jewish woman who is an authority on Christianity in Jerusalem. She offered insights into the many churches represented in Jerusalem that developed at the dawn Christianity, including Roman Catholic, Coptic, Armenian, Ethiopian, and Greek, Russian and smaller Orthodox sects, and other churches I may not remember. They all share the Church of the Holy Sepulcher that contains what they believe is Christ's Tomb. Each jealously guards its part of the church. Most prominent and controlling is the Greek Orthodox Church. The Protestants came much later, primarily in the nineteenth century, bringing good works, such as hospitals. Afterward we toured the Arab quarter with its narrow market streets, stopping along the route for local street foods, fruit juices, and a variety of Middle Eastern pastries.

We went to the Kotel (Western Wall) to pray during Shabbat, and finished at a building that housed sites for the three faiths: the last supper site, and the tomb of King David with separate Jewish and Muslim worship areas. It is all part of that uniqueness that is the Old City and surrounds.

The next day we began with a visit to Kids for Peace, which serves youth from Jewish, Muslim and Christian communities who otherwise would never meet. They learn to live with and appreciate each other and their communities. We toured what makes up Jerusalem with a ride and stops on the city's new surface rail, visiting a mixed middle class suburb, an Arab community, an Ultra Orthodox community, and finished with a stop at the Mechaneh Jehudeh open air market where we snacked on the go for lunch. Our next stop was to hear a Modern Orthodox woman who is part of the Yerushlamit program that works to develop a vibrant, inclusive Jerusalem society. The day's tours concluded with a visit to a major film school with the viewing of a short film on the issues for Defense Force check point soldiers, and another that explored issues for Holocaust survivors.

Next day began with a treat, a rare morning visit to the Temple mount that houses the Muslim golden Dome of the Rock, and the Al-Aqsa Mosque. We finished in Jerusalem with a stop again at the Kotel and with personal reflections about Jerusalem, as a religious center that has been a work in progress for two millennia.

Association of Reform Zionists of America

May 2018

Charlie Niederman, VP, Planning & Development

Enroute Haifa we stopped at a home for a lecture about the Druze religion over lunch. The Druze believe in loyalty to the country of their citizenship and serve in the Israel Defense Force. Next we visited Atlit, a camp for the Jewish immigrants who ignored the stringent British quotas immediately after the holocaust. Next day we visited Shefaram to view the life of minorities with an Arab Christian woman guide, who headed to her job as a pharmacist at the tours end. She led us to her Catholic school and Church where we met a 94 year old nun; to Q and A at the city's Mosque, and to an old synagogue, rarely used because all the Jews had moved to newer towns. We followed with lunch prepared at the home of a retired Christian Arab school teacher who was assisted by her sister-in-law, another teacher. She showed us how to make tabouli salad and after lunch both freely discussed their desire for a more inclusive society, their lives, their children, and their grandchildren. Returning to Haifa we stopped for a tasting at the Tulip winery which supports a village that houses people with special needs and provides work to accommodate some of them. That evening we heard the Memorial Day, Yom Hazikaron, one minute siren. Leaving the Haifa area where the diverse cultures and faiths live and work together, we headed to Tel Aviv, stopping for the morning memorial siren that halted freeway traffic.

In Tel Aviv we visited an exhibit about Prime Minister Yitzak Rabin who was assassinated by a member of an extremist Jewish group soon after he finished addressing a peace rally in 1995. We then attended a lecture at Independence Hall about the signing Israel's Declaration of Independence. That evening we enjoyed a Havdalah service that separated Memorial Day from Yom Ha'Atzmahut, this year Israel's 70th Anniversary. The night's celebration began with fireworks and major streets closed to traffic. As we walked through Tel Aviv we saw families strolling with their children, and saw many others in loud celebration. On historic and very wide Rothschild Blvd. several blocks were closed to traffic for music and dancing, and viewing the sides of buildings on which patriotic videos were streaming. For the final two days in Tel Aviv the tour included a visit to a new recycling site, a cemetery for city founders and celebrities, the Museum of the Jewish People, and a visit to the Rubin House, studio of pioneering Israeli artist Reuven Rubin. Cathy and I enjoyed an overabundant barbeque typical of Israeli families on Independence Day. Shabbat was celebrated at Beit Daniel, Tel Aviv's oldest Reform Synagogue, followed by a dinner to visit with congregation members. There was also time to visit the beach promenade, to shop, and to see dozens of construction cranes atop high towers, as Israel's most modern area grows with an unmatched entrepreneurial spirit.

The trip was timed to take part in this year's special holidays, and aimed at understanding today's Israel and its rich diversity. I hope you got a taste of it.

Message from Membership Chair

I have just returned from what I thought was a trip to Israel with Rabbi Myers and several wonderful congregation members of Temple Beth David. But, it was not a trip, it was a spiritual, emotional, and educational journey...an indescribably wonderful experience. We were immersed in Israel, past, present, and future. Our perspectives were forever altered, our love and loyalty for Israel deepened.

I know that not everyone has made, or can make, this journey, but there is a journey you can and should make. Think of Temple Beth David as your journey. Enhance your spiritual experience by attending Shabbat services many Fridays each month, connecting with Rabbi Myers and Cantor Linder. Make new friendships with congregation members, many of whom represent cultures not so distant from Israel, itself. Explore the educational opportunities TBD has to offer. On our trip, we went to an Israeli film studio where we viewed two incredible documentaries and met the producer of each, a man who in his country is as revered as Stephen Spielberg is in ours. At TBD, you can attend lectures, musical events, discussions, and so much more.

Begin or continue your journey at Temple. There is so much to offer, so much to fill your lives here.

At first the Sycamores seem mad, but it is not long before we realize that if they are mad, the rest of the world is madder. In contrast to these delightful people are the unhappy Kirbys. The plot shows how Tony, the attractive young son of the Kirbys, falls in love with Alice Sycamore and brings his parents to meet the Sycamores on the wrong evening. The shock exhibited by the Kirbys, who are invited to eat cheap food, shows Alice that marriage with Tony is out of the question. The Sycamores, however, though sympathetic to Alice, find it hard to accept her point of view. Tony, in total agreement with the Sycamores, refuses to give up on Alice, and the fun begins. Watch how true love is able to change the two families' perception of life and of love!

Did you attend the Welcome Refugees Brunch on April 8th? Or did you miss it? Either way, I am sure many of you are wondering “What can I do?”

HIAS, the Hebrew Immigrant Aide Society, protects and advocates for refugees worldwide. Here are some of their ideas:

Urge Congress to Protect Syrian Refugees

The United States has welcomed a shamefully low number of Syrian refugees so far this fiscal year. In a conflict that has produced 5.4 million refugees since 2011 and shows no sign of abating, American leadership is sorely needed. Write to your Members of Congress and ask them to increase humanitarian aid to Syria and to insist that America welcomes Syrian refugees.

Tell Congress that Welcoming Refugees Makes America Stronger

This year, the United States is on pace to welcome the lowest number of refugees in decades. Write to your Members of Congress, or call them, and ask that they support higher refugee admissions. Urge them to ensure that there are no further attempts to restrict or dismantle the program. The U.S. Refugee Admissions Program provides safety to tens of thousands of people every year. With unprecedented attacks against the program, we need to keep the pressure up.

Join the “Jews for Refugees” Facebook Group

Joining this group is a great way to connect with thousands of other committed individuals across the country, access up-to-the-minute information about the Jewish response to the refugee crisis and share the actions that you are taking. Click here to join.

Take Action for African Asylum Seekers in Israel

Israel recently announced plans to detain or potentially deport tens of thousands of people who sought asylum in Israel. Join the #LetUsHelp campaign to take action.

Write a Letter to the Editor or Op-ed and Submit it to a Local News Outlet

Policymakers are accountable to their constituents, and the editorial page is often a flashpoint for public opinion on key issues. Contact HIAS staff if you would like to draft a letter for your local newspaper arguing for great protections for refugees.

If you are interested in getting involved on the local level, the Orange County Jewish Coalition for Refugees welcomes new members. Contact Debbie Lechuk at deblechuk@gmail.com for more information.

Goodsearch

To Our Temple Beth David Family:

As most of you are aware, our Temple depends on donations to deliver the high quality of services to all of you. We understand that many of you are still struggling with the recent economic downturn. However, we have come up with a way that will allow you to donate to the Temple without spending a penny of your own money, plus you will actually save money on many purchases that you normally make!

We would like to introduce you to Goodshop and Goodsearch. Goodshop works with more than 5,000 stores that will provide all of you with discounts on what you normally buy and then will donate up to 20% of the purchase price to the Temple. You will simply click on a link on the Temple Home Page, start saving money for your family and help the Temple out as well! We have included an easy step-by-step signup guide with this letter. Here are some examples of companies that participate in the program:

Target, Macy's, Nordstrom, Neiman Marcus, Sears, Sak's, Apple, Old Navy, the Gap, Amazon, Office Depot, Petco, Staples, Dell, The Limited, Holiday Inn, Groupon, Levi's, Lands End, Best Buy, 1-800 Flowers, 24 Hour Fitness, and Victoria's Secret.

These are companies that we all normally shop at, and by simply clicking on the link on the Temple website, you will be saving money for your family and actually raising money for the Temple. In addition, you can also save money by dining out at participating restaurants and, at the same time, raising donations for the Temple as well. It's simple, free and easy to use, and the average family using the site over a year will actually raise more than $350 annually for the Temple. Multiply that by our 300 families and we will raise more than $100,000 per year for the Temple! This program really works. Goodshop has raised more than $11 million for charitable organizations with this program.

Likewise, we are also rolling out Goodsearch. By doing your internet searches through Goodsearch.com, which links with Yahoo, the Temple will receive a penny for every internet search. If you can imagine how many internet searches you do, and your families do, this will also add up to real money for the Temple.

We encourage all of you to participate and to help strengthen our Temple for all of us and for the generations to come.

With best regards,

Neil Kornswiet
