I'm scared to go to overnight camp

Rabbi Nancy Rita Myers

July 2015

"I'm not sure what I'll be doing. What my day will look like is completely unknown to me. I don't have any friends going. I'll be sleeping away from my home. I probably won't like the food either."

These could be sentiments shared by our children and teens before they go to overnight camp, but alas they are actually mine. I'm going for the first time to Camp Newman, the Union for Reform Judaism, in Northern California for two weeks in July. Many rabbis and Jewish professionals do this. It's a way of serving the greater Jewish community, supporting our own temple youth, and participating and leading creative Jewish programming. I've been asked for years to do this and somehow found the right excuse not to. Not this year though. I know the timing is right and it's the right thing to do. However, it's all new to me.

As an adult, I can be fearful of the unknown just as our kids are. Even as I confess that I'm a bit nervous about sleeping away from home without people I like and love, I am very curious to see the camp and how it works. Our synagogue has been promoting Camp Newman because it is a product of our movement and reflects our values. Through the Lynn Front Memorial URJ Campership Fund of our Foundation, we have been providing grants for our youth with priority to those entering 7-9th grade with financial need and absolute merit to attend Camp Newman. Through the vision of Seth Front, son of the late Rabbi Henri and Regina Front, we have been sending record numbers of youth to Camp Newman. The reports from our youth have been amazing. I have heard from everyone how much fun their camp experience was, all the friends they made, and they genuinely have an excitement for Judaism upon their return.

My experience, as an adult and rabbi, I expect to be different from our youth. I am looking forward to seeing the camp, helping with programming and worship, and keeping an eye out for our Temple youth. I may not like the food but I do anticipate working with dedicated staff and clergy during my time away. I'll be sure give you a report on activities at camp. In the meantime, off I go.

Rabbi Nancy Myers

On Sunday, June 14, our Annual Donor Luncheon, chaired by Mickey Lewin and Sue LeBoff was the Sisterhood highlight event in June. This delightful party provided a delicious luncheon and an opportunity to celebrate our achievements. Rabbi Nancy Myers conducted a meaningful installation of Board members. We revisited the past year with a 3 page scroll listing the many events and achievements of the past year. Edie Mino received the "Woman of Merit" award, selected by a group of past honorees and named for outstanding service to our organization. There were lots of door prizes and fun.

We begin our new Sisterhood year this month with an active and energetic Board. Cathy Katz joins us as Membership chair along with Elaine Netzer. We welcome them and look forward to their participation in our dynamic organization.

The next planned event for Sisterhood is the bus trip to Pechanga Casino on Tuesday, July 28th. Be sure to get your reservations in to Edie Schwartz as these trips sell out quickly; or there is a registration listed in the Shavua Tov and the Megillah. The cost is $20 per person with your check made out to the Sisterhood or you can pay in cash if you prefer and $10 is refunded at the casino for each attendee's use. It is a fun and effortless day with a comfortable bus ride to and from the area, 8:30 a.m. to about 5:00 p.m.

Our Membership, Program and Fund-raising committees are already hard at work to prepare an interesting program for the year. The Membership Brunch event will be held at the temple in the Social Hall on Sunday morning, October 11th. A membership form for Sisterhood is included in the Temple membership form; just click on "Sisterhood". Please send a separate check made out to Sisterhood. to get an early start on the Sisterhood year. You are sure to have great food and entertainment.

Mark your calendars for a Sisterhood fund-raiser brunch on Sunday morning, November 1 starring Larry Maurer of "Timeless Melodies", an entertaining music and video show featuring familiar Jewish music, events and history. Our own Cantor Linder is one of the featured performers. This is an event you won't want to miss! More information to follow!

Have a great summer and remember that Sisterhood Matters!

Membership Report - July 2015

Kelly Halbreich, VP Membership

I am so pleased to have an opportunity to serve our Synagogue by welcoming new members! Our family received such a warm welcome when we joined two years ago it is my pleasure to continue that wonderful work. We have so much to plan and organize over the next year, from a Havdalah Beach Party in August to our New Member Reception and ensuring anyone who would like to is a member of a Chavurah. If you would like to volunteer welcoming new members to our wonderful Synagogue our committee is looking for you.

When we first joined the Synagogue, I wasn't sure about joining a Chavurah as it sounded like just one more thing to do during my already busy day, week and month. I can tell you my experience at TBD has been enhanced by the friendships we are building and fun we have had with our Chavurah. We spend most of our time talking, sharing recipes and of course eating wonderful food. I have heard about other Chavurah's that have more structured events like evenings out at a stage show or comedy club. There is something for everyone. If you are interested in joining a Chavurah or joining the Membership Committee, feel free to contact me directly for further discussion.

ARZA

By Charlie Niederman

Association of Reform Zionists of America

Charlie Niederman, VP, Religious Practices

This month I'll cover three events, two in Israel and one in Egypt. The first is one you may be aware of. The new Israeli government is a loose coalition, or at least that is how it appears. The new Minister of Religious Affairs, David Azoulay, a Knesset member of the Shas Party, the Ashkenazi religious party, met with Justice Minister Ayelet Shaked to discuss Women of the Wall, and Azoulay declared, "Reform Jews are a disaster for the people of Israel." It is a statement clearly at odds with supportive statements about Reform Judaism and Diaspora Jewry that Prime Minister Netanyahu has made to Rabbi Rick Jacobs, President of our Union for Reform Judaism, and that he made in a video speech to the last Convention of the URJ. ARZA's immediate reply to Prime Minister Netanyahu said in part, "The fact that this statement was made by the Minister of Religious Affairs – the person in charge of the provision of religious services to all Jewish Israeli citizens – makes it all the more severe, and brings into question whether he is fit to serve this position in a way that gives proper respect to the basic democratic values of the State of Israel, the national homeland for Jewish people of all movements, communities, and streams. In addition, this statement seriously damages the solidarity that many Jewish communities around the world feel with the State of Israel, which is especially hurtful during a time when this crucial sense of connection is often already lacking.

In light of the severity of this statement and knowing that you are personally committed to nurturing Israel's relationship with Diaspora Jewry, I ask that you make a public condemnation of MK Azoulay's statement and demonstrate your government's commitment to productive, empowering, and respectful dialogue with all circles of the Jewish world."

The second event shows how convoluted the relationships between governments, religious minorities and Arab rebels has gotten. It revolves around the Druze, a Middle Eastern monotheistic religion whose followers live primarily in Syria, Lebanon, and Israel and it will mean something to those who went on our congregational trip to Israel. One of the Druze tenets is loyalty to the government of the country in which they live, but their beliefs are secret and known in full to only a leadership elite. Druze do serve in the Israel Defense Force. During our congregation's trip to Israel we stopped in a Druze town in the Golan where we had lunch and were impressed by their community and school children. Recently the Syrian civil war has caused problems for them because Israel is providing medical treatment to Syrian rebels injured near the Israel border. The Druze in Syria are loyal to the Syrian government, putting them at odds with Israel that favors non-jihadist rebel groups. Recently an Israeli convoy of wounded rebels being taken for treatment in Israel caused a riot by Israeli Druze who attacked some of the rebels. Israel has stated that its policy is to treat only rebels who have not persecuted Syrian Druze in the rebel controlled areas and Israeli Druze leaders denounced the rioters. Israel's Defense Minister, Moshe Ya'alon clarified that Israel would not abandon the Druze in Syria. "The rebels that come close to the border fence will get humanitarian aid and the condition is that they don't harm the Syrian Druze." He emphasized that the riot that led to the attack against the wounded Syrian rebels and the statements by leaders of the riots caused a lot of damage in his opinion. However, Ya'alon praised the conduct of the head of the Israel Druze community, Sheikh Mofaq Tarif and the Druze mayors.

The third item is less convoluted, but more surprising. In Egypt they run TV serials during Ramadan, the Muslim holy month that began last week and requires spiritual reflection and fasting during daylight hours. This year it has been reported that one series in Egypt is a lot like the typical fare: a love story with a villain trying to steal the leading lady's man. There's prostitution, politics and intrigue. But this one has a twist. The heroine is a likeable Jewish woman. It has been controversial since the program was conceived. The director, Mohamed el-Adl has said, "They were telling us why would you make a series about Jews, it's forbidden, it's not nice to show them, it's not nice to talk about them..." The series shows a pre-Nasser Egypt that was much more cosmopolitan and that included Jews as loyal Egyptians. This would not be so surprising had not Egyptian TV run in recent years a thirteen-hour anti-Semitic series about how Jews are scheming to take over the world by controlling the economy.

Even Israelis have trouble understanding their government, their minorities and the their neighbors in a part of the world where it is never safe to assume that the enemy of my enemy is my friend.

“The New Reality of Christian-Jewish Relations”

Rabbi Mayersohn will speak about Jewish-Christian relations based in a large part on his experiences over the last 12 years teaching in churches in Orange County, San Diego, and Arizona. He will pose the idea that we are living in a new era of interfaith relationships, a break from the history of the past.

Rabbi Michael Mayersohn served as rabbi of TBD for 13 years. He teaches classes at churches throughout Southern California and Arizona. In 2014 he served as the keynote speaker for the annual clergy conference of the Nottingham diocese in England.

You don't have to be a Club 55 member or a Temple Beth David member to attend!

Goodshop

Goodsearch

To Our Temple Beth David Family:

As most of you are aware, our Temple depends on donations to deliver the high quality of services to all of you. We understand that many of you are still struggling with the recent economic downturn. However, we have come up with a way that will allow you to donate to the Temple without spending a penny of your own money, plus you will actually save money on many purchases that you normally make!

We would like to introduce you to Goodshop and Goodsearch. Goodshop works with more than 5,000 stores that will provide all of you with discounts on what you normally buy and then will donate up to 20% of the purchase price to the Temple. You will simply click on a link on the Temple Home Page, start saving money for your family and help the Temple out as well! We have included an easy step-by-step signup guide with this letter. Here are some examples of companies that participate in the program:

Target, Macy's, Nordstrom, Neiman Marcus, Sears, Sak's, Apple, Old Navy, the Gap, Amazon, Office Depot, Petco, Staples, Dell, The Limited, Holiday Inn, Groupon, Levi's, Lands End, Best Buy, 1-800 Flowers, 24 Hour Fitness, and Victoria's Secret.

These are companies that we all normally shop at, and by simply clicking on the link on the Temple website, you will be saving money for your family and actually raising money for the Temple. In addition, you can also save money by dining out at participating restaurants and, at the same time, raising donations for the Temple as well. It's simple, free and easy to use, and the average family using the site over a year will actually raise more than $350 annually for the Temple. Multiply that by our 300 families and we will raise more than $100,000 per year for the Temple! This program really works. Goodshop has raised more than $11 million for charitable organizations with this program.

Likewise, we are also rolling out Goodsearch. By doing your internet searches through Goodsearch.com, which links with Yahoo, the Temple will receive a penny for every internet search. If you can imagine how many internet searches you do, and your families do, this will also add up to real money for the Temple.

We encourage all of you to participate and to help strengthen our Temple for all of us and for the generations to come.

With best regards,

Neil Kornswiet
