Have you ever wanted to lead a service, give a sermon, or tell a story?

Rabbi Nancy Rita Myers

October 2015

Many of you are already aware that I'll be going on sabbatical February 1, 2016 - July 30, 2016. Rabbis generally are entitled to a sabbatical after 7 years. Sabbaticals are intended for rabbis "to seek spiritual and physical reinvigoration through a program of study and travel." Many rabbis use their sabbatical to "recharge their batteries" in order to stem burnout. Others have studied in Israel or worked on projects. I have been eligible for a number of years but have waited till this time to take a sabbatical because our congregation has been stable for quite some time with committed lay leaders and staff. I hope during this time to work on a novel on the judge Deborah from the Bible utilizing my knowledge of archeology and history. Truth be told, I don't know if I have any ability in writing but I've always wanted to try.

During my sabbatical, Cantor Nancy Linder will be covering pastoral emergencies and providing organizational leadership of our worship services. We are looking for lay leaders to lead worship with her, deliver a sermon, lead a discussion, or tell a story. Are you interested? I already have some names and will be leading some training workshops to those who will be assisting. I will cover basics such as organizational skills but also messaging and goals of worship. In Judaism, we are taught that we are all a 'holy people'. The Torah and its teachings are not just meant for Jewish professionals but are truly accessible to all our people. Even though I hope to be missed during my time away, I expect our Temple to be okay and for there to even be some pleasant surprises from those who lead our worship. I hope my sabbatical leads to a greater empowerment of our members and community.

Aside from Cantor Linder, we are of course very lucky to also have the support of Larry and Sharon Matalon during this time. In addition, we have wonderful lay leadership and staff who are responsible and care very deeply about our community. Area rabbis will be teaching the confirmation sessions that I'll be missing. During my sabbatical, I will still take care of our Bnei Mitzvah services and confirmation ceremony.

I want to thank you for this opportunity to 'recharge' my rabbinate because it's my intention to be a congregational rabbi for decades to come. So, do you want to 'play' at being rabbi? Let me know.

We start another wonderful year in Sisterhood with the echos still lingering of all the voices of the High Holidays. Did you notice how splendid the silver crowns and bells appears during the High Holy Days services. Thanks to our dedicated Sisterhood members who carefully polished and cared for these precious ornaments that adorn our Torahs.

An event you will not want to miss is our Sisterhood Membership Brunch on October 11 at 9:30. It will be a celebration of life where you can enjoy a delicious meal and meet good friends and welcome our new members. We will be entertained and intrigued by our guest, Stephanie Blum, comedian, mother of three, former school psychologist and a Brooklyn native. Many thanks to our membership chairs, Cathy Katz and Elaine Netzer and their committee. This event is free with your RSVP as soon as possible to Cathy and Elaine at (714) 965-4976 or (714) 963-7583.

Because Chanukah comes so early this year October brings preparation for Chanukah and the Chanukah Carnival. The kitchen will be a busy place November 14 while a group will gather to wash, grind, mix and fry our potato latkes under the leadership of Renee Dorfman. If you are interested in helping with this huge project, please contact Renee at the temple office. This event qualifies for Donor credit as well. If you can't be there to help, be sure to come to the Carnival on November 15th so you can taste the goodness of the latkes. Did you know that Sisterhood prepares over 1000 latkes each year?

The Judaica Shop staff is preparing for the Chanukah Carnival as well. Be sure to check out the merchandise and do your Chanukah Shopping early. Anyone who would like to help at the Carnival please contact Jackie Hewitt at (714) 846-3620 – a good way to begin earning Donor credit.

There will also be a cookie, cupcakes and brownie bake sale at the Carnival. Please contact Mickey Lewin (714) 848-8835 to contribute your goodies. These delicious bake goods sell out every year so you will want to visit the Bake Sale table early to be sure you can select the goodies you want to purchase.

And Ladies and Gentlemen! Mark your calendars now for the Sunday, November 1 Brunch at 9:30 a.m. The food will be extraordinary and you can enjoy a mimosa as you watch the program “From Temple to Tinpan Alley” featuring the many talents of Larry Maurer of the Bower's Museum who will present a most delightful entertaining and educational show. The admission is $25 per person or you can be a sponsor for $75 including one admission and donor credit. Bring your friends – please be prompt with your RSVP to the Temple Office or to Anne Farber at (714) 846-1591.

Sisterhood is many things. It's a warm smile on a cold and rainy day, a friendly hug, a cheerful hello. It's knowing that there will always be someone there for you. Come participate and be part of a lasting and rewarding experience.

Religious School News!

I have been asked many questions:
Who is Elizabeth Kleinman? What is your background? Are you mishuga (crazy)?

So the answer to the last question is without a doubt - yes. But let me introduce myself. I grew up at Temple Beth David, under the tutelage of Rabbi Front and Cantor Newman. My parents Allan and Sally are long time members of this temple and at one time were the youth group leaders.

During my youth, I was a madricha and a kindergarten teacher at Temple Beth David, I have fond memories of babysitting and running children's' programming during the high holidays.

I earned a Bachelor of Science from Cal Poly, in Graphic communications, with an emphasis in print management and computer graphics. I obtained my Master's Degree from Cal State LA where I studied Industrial and Technical Studies.

Before children I was a structural and packaging designer. Quite a fun job, but taxing on the hours.

Once Jon (my husband of now 21 years – where has the time gone?) and I welcomed children into our life I became an involved stay at home mom.

I have 4 amazing kids! Jordan is 18 at Berkeley where she is double majoring in Chemistry and Physics. Andrew is a junior at Pacifica High School. He is a very dedicated student and athlete. Dani is 13. She is a passionate student, and quite the gymnast. Jessa, is 11. She is in 6th grade and starting to prepare to become a Bat Mitzvah.

My teaching involvement stems from a life time of being surrounded by teachers. I passed the CBEST in 1994 in order to substitute. But mostly I have enjoyed teaching art. I was the Art Director at Silver Gan Israel for 7 summers. Quite a challenge to see more than 100 students over the course of day and come up with fresh new art projects. At Temple Israel, I was the Art Specialist for 7 years. I really enjoyed created program based art for individual grades. During the 2013 school year, I was employed by the Hebrew Academy as a long term substitute teacher.

I accepted the position of VP of Education in 2013. Since that time, I have been very involved in the ECLC and religious school. Together with Elliot Fein and the Education Committee, a new report card was adopted, the curriculum was updated, and the communication between teachers and families has improved. I was also involved in hiring the new religious school staff, as well as the ECLC secretary.

I am looking forward to a fantastic school year.

October 2015

What a busy start we've had to our school year. The holidays came around early this year so we had lots of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur teaching to get in right at the beginning. Our orientation day has become an annual event where new parents are welcomed and those returning are reacquainted with the curriculum and each other. With much excitement and plates of bagels and cream cheese, we met in our classrooms to learn about all the fun the new school year has in store. We progressed to the play yard for the second half of the orientation where the children explored the numerous activities available and the parents got to know each other.

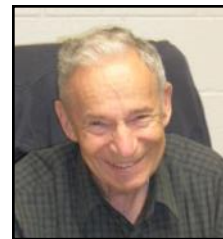

It's a nice way to begin the year.

We will soon be greeted by the sukkah in our yard. The children love seeing it and having lunch in it. We'll meet Rabbi Myers there and take turns shaking the lulav and taking a whiff of the etrog. Before you know it we'll meet with our Rabbi again, this time in the Sanctuary, to learn about Simchat Torah. The children love climbing up on the bimah to get a look at the open Torah, close and personal. I hope that your year has begun as joyfully and sweet as ours at the ECLC.

B'Shalom, Vanessa

Charlie Niederman, VP, Religious Practices

Last month the article covered our Reform Movement's response to the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPOA) negotiated by the representatives of the P5+1 and Iran. It was a rare occasion when all five of the permanent members of the UN Security Council (US, China, France, Russia and the UK) plus Germany agreed to unite in negotiations with the Iranian regime. They achieved an agreement that should delay and possibly prevent Iran from gaining nuclear weapons. The Reform Movement took no position pro or con on the JCPOA but did present its concerns to our own government. The plan will remain controversial, but the purpose of these articles is to keep abreast of what the Union for Reform Judaism does through ARZA, the Association of Reform Zionists of America, to support Reform Judaism in Israel and the events and policies that effect Jews there and worldwide. So, here is an update on the progress of the Israel Movement for Reform and Progressive Judaism (IMPJ) for the last year. The IMPJ Executive Director, Rabbi Gilad Kariv, in his annual New Year greeting pointed out that there are now 45 Reform congregations spread out across the country, from Rosh Pina in the North to the Arava in the south. It achieved a doubling of total communities in less than a decade with three new ones last year. Also, two established congregations, Yedid Nefesh in Carmiel and Birkat Shalom in Kibbutz Gezer have finally secured permanent buildings, following extensive negotiation with municipal and national authorities. A survey conducted by the Israel's Knesset Channel found that 12% of Israelis define themselves as Reform or Conservative. According to Rabbi Kariv, "... We are experiencing significant growth in activity. Every third Israeli has participated in an event led by a Reform rabbi. Maybe we're not the most significant stream of Judaism in Israel, but we are certainly not a marginal phenomenon."

Other statements by the IMPJ point out that their policy of working in the education system has resulted in 8 schools and 60 preschools associated with the movement. Rabbi Kariv also wrote, "As tides of hateful incitement continue to rise in Israeli society, the IMPJ stands steadfast by its commitment to promoting a tolerant, shared society in Israel. Over the past six months, we have begun operating two new "Meeting Neighbors" Jewish-Arab dialogue groups and have developed a brand new educational curriculum program for the 9th and 10th grades on the promotion of a shared society through a Jewish lens. Both of these projects are expected to grow and expand over the coming year." Growth of the movement is not without its detractors. In the last few months, as Israel's new government takes hold, ministers from the religious parties have not missed the opportunity to attack Reform Judaism. Minister of Religious Services David Azoulay of the ultra-Orthodox Shas Party, said, "I cannot allow myself to say that [a Reform Jew] is Jewish." His July 7 words caused such an uproar in the United States, that Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu publicly renounced the statement.

The day after Azoulay spoke out, the chairman of the Knesset Finance Committee, Moshe Gafni of ultra-Orthodox Yahadut HaTorah, said that while the Reform Jews are Jews, they "stab the Torah in the back." Perhaps it is not all bad news, since the ultra-Orthodox now feel the Reform movement important enough that they must increase their denunciations.

Cost: $18.00 (made payable to TBD)

During the three sessions, Rabbi Mayersohn will examine the beginnings of Christianity in the 1st century with the emergence of Jesus as a Jewish sage and the historical events that led to the traumatic and convulsive parting of the ways of early Christians and Jews. We will look at the place of Jesus in Jewish life and the theological and historical developments that led to animosity and separation by the end of the century. Rabbi Mayersohn will go on to look at the relations of Jews and Christians in the middle ages, looking honestly and clearly at the times of hurt and bitterness and the periods of cooperation. Finally, the class will study the current situation between Christians and Jews, focusing on the impact of the Catholic church's issuance of Vatican II and subsequent developments that led to Jewish-Christian relations today. Jewish and Christian students will come to realize that our stereotypes of each other and that our view of our history are always accurate constructive.

Rabbi Mayersohn has an extensive background on this subject. He was at Temple Beth David from 1990 until 2003. Since 2003 he has taught classes about the beginnings of Christianity and Bible studies in Orange County, San Diego and Arizona as well as in England and Scotland. He is the only rabbi who has taught workshops in the Religious Education Congress of the Los Angeles Archdiocese.

Thank you!

Thank you!

Thank you!

A very HEARTY Thank You to all who helped to make this year's High Holy Days such a success! Thank You to our wonderful Temple secretary, Edie, who did an amazing job considering how extraordinarily stressful this year has been for our office. Thank You to Jan Klein for getting the bags for our Food Drive and for putting the name badge lanyards together, to Lynne Horn, Irma Moskowitz and Garry Plotkin for stapling the information onto the food bags, to Mulu Harrison-Skinner for stuffing and folding Tzedakah envelopes, answering phones and all her help in the office, to Eileen Tobey and Irma Moskowitz for collating and putting together our HHD info packets, to Gloria Schwartz for all her help in the office and around the Temple, and for good pizza when we had no time to get our own lunch. Thank You to Frieda Rapoport Caplan, Karen Caplan and Jackie Wiggins of Frieda's who arranged for the donation of the gourds and Indian corn for our Sukkah. A special Thank You for Garry Plotkin for the exceptional lengths he went to so we could have all those great palm fronds for TBD's Sukkah. A Thank You, too, to Suzanne Wolff for the sweet little hand fan that she brought to me on Rosh Hashanah morning that helped me get through our rather warm High Holy Days.

And, AS ALWAYS, A THANK YOU THAT CAN NEVER BE BIG ENOUGH TO SCOTT WHITESIDE for taking care of everything and making us look so good, even with all of our last minute lunacy. We couldn't do it without all of you!

Kim

Thank you to everyone who contributed to our annual Food Drive. We had over 300 bags returned to us during Yom Kippur and afterward, as well as cases of baby food, pasta, peanut butter, jellies, canned fruit and vegetables, soups, and much more. The food was evenly distributed to 3 well-established local food banks – the Orange County Promises, Westminster Hope Lutheran Church, and the Western Service Workers. Temple Beth David members and guests always respond so generously each year to our Food Drive, and these charities are very appreciative.

The Temple Beth David Family truly knows what a mitzvah is!

With donations from congregants I have purchased the 2007 second edition of Encyclopedia Judaica for the Temple Beth David Library. I got a used set in fantastic condition for less than half price of new. I am planning to set up a fund that congregants can donate to so I can purchase other items for the Temple Beth David Library. This will allow me to buy needed items without having to ask the Temple for funding which they find hard to come up with. The next purchases needed are a bookshelf large enough and tall enough to house the children's books. I also need a couple of Introduction to Jewish Genealogy Books for the collection and a picture frame for the Elazar poster in the Library. I am slowly automating the library. When I am done the catalog will be available to be searched on the Temple Beth David Website.

SISTERHOOD MATTERS

WHAT IF...

Suddenly, you or a loved one passes away or becomes incapacitated, would you or your loved ones know where to find the check book, what bills to pay? Would they be able to find important papers, know what passwords to use to access accounts on the computer?

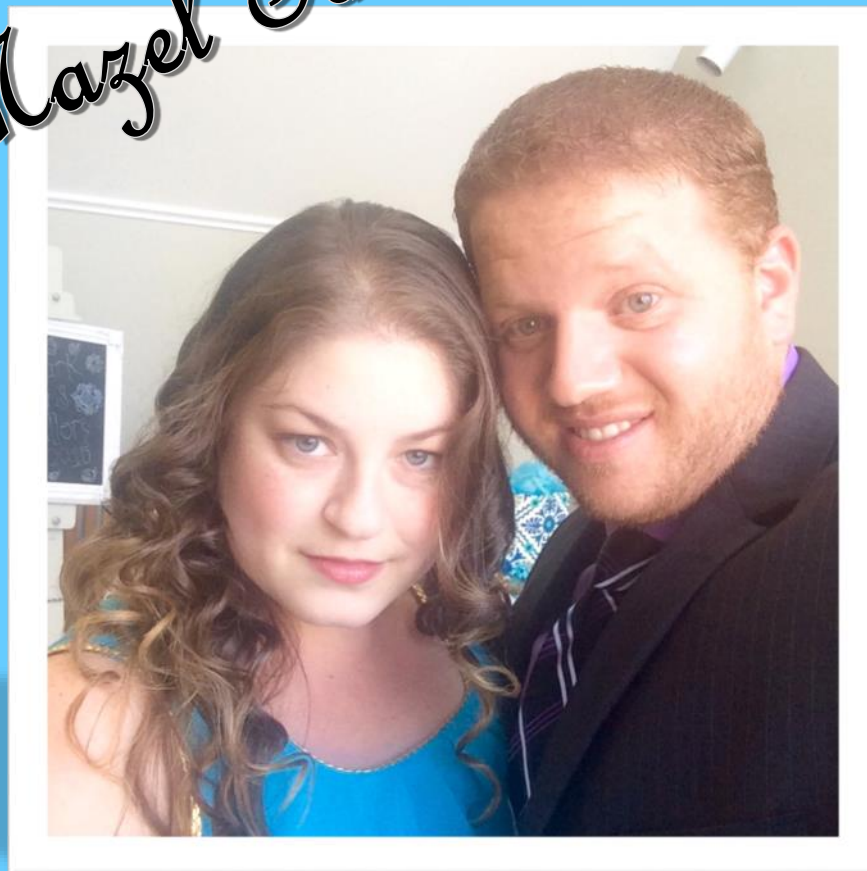

It is difficult to talk of these things when we are young and in good health. We all know that life can change in a second that is why it is so important to be prepared: to talk to your loved ones and get your affairs in order NOW.

I have put together a booklet with suggestions and helpful hints on how to get started. It is available in the Temple office for a suggested donation of $5.00, to help defray the cost of printing.

Goodshop

Goodsearch

To Our Temple Beth David Family:

As most of you are aware, our Temple depends on donations to deliver the high quality of services to all of you. We understand that many of you are still struggling with the recent economic downturn. However, we have come up with a way that will allow you to donate to the Temple without spending a penny of your own money, plus you will actually save money on many purchases that you normally make!

We would like to introduce you to Goodshop and Goodsearch. Goodshop works with more than 5,000 stores that will provide all of you with discounts on what you normally buy and then will donate up to 20% of the purchase price to the Temple. You will simply click on a link on the Temple Home Page, start saving money for your family and help the Temple out as well! We have included an easy step-by-step signup guide with this letter. Here are some examples of companies that participate in the program:

Target, Macy's, Nordstrom, Neiman Marcus, Sears, Sak's, Apple, Old Navy, the Gap, Amazon, Office Depot, Petco, Staples, Dell, The Limited, Holiday Inn, Groupon, Levi's, Lands End, Best Buy, 1-800 Flowers, 24 Hour Fitness, and Victoria's Secret.

These are companies that we all normally shop at, and by simply clicking on the link on the Temple website, you will be saving money for your family and actually raising money for the Temple. In addition, you can also save money by dining out at participating restaurants and, at the same time, raising donations for the Temple as well. It's simple, free and easy to use, and the average family using the site over a year will actually raise more than $350 annually for the Temple. Multiply that by our 300 families and we will raise more than $100,000 per year for the Temple! This program really works. Goodshop has raised more than $11 million for charitable organizations with this program.

Likewise, we are also rolling out Goodsearch. By doing your internet searches through Goodsearch.com, which links with Yahoo, the Temple will receive a penny for every internet search. If you can imagine how many internet searches you do, and your families do, this will also add up to real money for the Temple.

We encourage all of you to participate and to help strengthen our Temple for all of us and for the generations to come.

With best regards,

Neil Kornswiet
