Joy Versus Fear of Missing out? Rabbi Myers

August 2018

Only in recent months did I hear the phrase, FOMO, i.e., fear of missing out. I was relating at Camp Newman that I missed the field trip of my eighth and ninth graders to a high ropes course. It was the first day and I was acclimating to my new responsibilities. I was bummed to miss out on this activity. One faculty member told me that it was FOMO. In general, I find that I don't like to miss out on anything fun, novel, or unique.

On the other hand, I recognize, sometimes doing too much can be overwhelming. Our lives are too fast paced. There are too many things to do. We are over programmed and running frantically from place to place. Even when we sit still, our electronic leashes via our devices pull us back in. Sometimes, perhaps we need to joyfully sit one out, unplug, and re-charge our own spiritual batteries. Just recently I heard of the phrase, JOMO, the joy of missing out. Quite a concept isn't it? We need a break. We need a vacation. We just need some time.

Fortunately, we have the solution. It's one that goes back thousands of years and it's called Shabbat. At Beth David, we've added an innovative element to this day of rest. Every few months, we have a Body, Mind, and Spirit Shabbat. The idea behind this is to get outdoors, enjoy the beauty of God's creation, and connect with something bigger than ourselves, as we move our bodies, make new friends, and rest.

On Saturday morning, August 18, starting at 9:00 a.m., we will serve fresh bagels, lox, cream cheese, fruit, eggs, and coffee to start our morning off. Then we will drive to Seal Beach. Larry Matalon will lead a walk on the sidewalk and I will lead a walk in the sand by the water. As with our other programs, we will stop seven times for holiness with meditative prayers and readings. By celebrating Shabbat in both this ancient and novel way, we will joyfully take a break from work, devices, errands, and stress. We'll feel the warm breeze blowing over the ocean and the sand between our toes. We'll laugh and talk. After our program, feel free to continue to enjoy the beach and stay for a bit longer or even for the day.

Let's all joyfully take this opportunity to miss out on work to reconnect with one another, God, and our beautiful world.

President's Message

I don't know if any of you have noticed, but summer is almost over (you can't really tell by the heat, but trust me). And we all know what that means. . . the High Holidays are just around the corner. That also means that Beth David is in the middle of our 2018-2019 membership renewal campaign. And I am here to tell you that we need all of you to renew your membership commitment to help sustain our synagogue for the next year. You should have already received your membership materials (if you have not, please contact the office). Please take a few moments to renew your commitment today. Our amazing services (led by our outstanding clergy), top notch religious school and pre-school, and always-entertaining programming depends upon all of you. And keep your eyes open for some changes coming our way in the next couple of months. Our lobby, freeway sign, and website will be undergoing some makeovers so that we can continue to evolve and to reinvent ourselves. Stay tuned on ways that you can help in those efforts as well. But in the meantime, the biggest help will be by renewing your membership today. Thanks, and enjoy the rest of your summer.

Sincerely,

Eric Schiffer, President

Beth David Brotherhood

By Charlie Niederman

Last month was special for our Jack Broscow, Temple Beth David Brotherhood. Robin Harrison and I attended the Men of Reform Judaism's National conference in Minneapolis. The purpose of the conference was to expand the horizon of brotherhoods to gain an understanding of Israel, anti-Semitism, and other important issues that influence our lives as Jews. The big news was that national awards were given to brotherhoods with outstanding programs. Seven awards were given and our Brotherhood was awarded three of them. The awards were for outstanding service to our Temple, outstanding service to our community, and outstanding service to our youth and teens. It was the result of the work of many of our members and any others who pitched in when they were needed.

The picture includes past and present Brotherhood board members with our three mounted glass plaques.

August will be a busy month for us. First will be our second "Car Show" on Sunday, August 12th, with special thanks to Rick Katz and Howard Tobey for all their work. It will be a more important event than last year. The mayor of Westminster will pass out the awards for the show. Food and live music will be featured, so plan to join us for our foremost summer event. See our flier for all the details.

Our other summer event is the membership barbeque at which we welcome current and prospective members. New Temple members are automatically complimentary Brotherhood members. See the flier. This year we are also inviting every havurah to join us on Sunday, August 26th. Give us your count and we will set up a special table for you.

Charlie Niederman,
President

SISTERHOOD MATTERS...

"Summertime, and the livin' is easy"...and fun...and filled with accomplishment. The end of July brings the culmination of months of planning for the renovation of the ladies' bathroom. Thank you to Ruth Kramer and Anne Farber for all of their hard work on this project. I can't wait to see it all beautiful and new! Also in July, we had another successful Mah Jongg tournament, led by the amazing Eileen Tobey, with an assist making and serving lunch by Anne Farber, Mickey Lewin, Linda Cohen, Jan Klein, Marcia Rosenzweig, and Mulu Harrison. We also went to Pechanga, where a few people won, most left some money, but all had a good time! Events like the Mah Jongg tournament and a day at Pechanga are fun, but also raise much-needed funds for the Temple, to be used on projects such as the bathroom renovation. I'd say those are win-win events!

Coming in August, some Sisterhood members will be polishing the silver Torah mantles and crowns in anticipation of the High Holidays. This will take place on Thursday, August 30 at 10:30 AM. Please contact Jan Klein if you wish to help. Finally, we are making plans for the WRJ Pacific District 2018 Convention: Educate, Empower, Embrace: Lechi Lach from October 18-21 at the beautiful DoubleTree by Hilton San Diego Mission Valley. I attended the convention two years ago; it was truly inspiring, and I am looking forward to attending again. It is my hope to have a strong contingent to represent Beth David, spend quality time together, and bring back new ideas for our Sisterhood. If you are interested in attending, please contact me for details.

I can be reached at our Sisterhood email: Sisterhood@templebethdavid.org or my personal email or phone numbers which are in the Temple directory.

Wishing you a pleasant rest of the summer.

Shalom,
Laurie

ARZA By Charlie Niederman

Association of Reform Zionists of America

August 2018

Charlie Niederman, VP, Planning & Development

Some months there is a chance to spend some time looking into Israeli institutions, and election procedures. This month is not one of them. The military situation is still an issue as Hamas in Gaza continues to provoke border incidents, including sniper fire, and to inflict damage in the local area. In the north as the Syrian Civil War fighting nears Israel and the Golan Heights more provocative incidents occur. Two rockets land in the Sea of Galilee, as did mortar shells. The Russians were quick to claim that the rockets were fired by the Islamic State and thanked Israel for not responding. The situation on the border is still tense

On a humanitarian note, Israel sent busses into Syria to rescue the White Helmets. They are local volunteers who rescue and transport civilians caught in the fighting, often in the rubble of their own homes. Western Nations called for the rescue, because the white helmets who remain in locations taken by the government and Russian forces are brutally treated as terrorists. Three hundred including families who could make it to the rescue point were safely transported.

If this were the only news we could think that life for all in Israel continues as it has for all its citizens. Would that this were the case, but last week the current coalition government, at the insistence of its far right, and ultra-religious minority parties passed landmark legislation called the Nation-State Law. It takes Israel farther from the pluralistic democracy that so many of us in the Diaspora hope the Jewish homeland will become, as it fulfills the promise of its Declaration of Independence to be a pluralistic, democratic nation for all its population. The Executive Director of the Association of Reform Zionists in America (ARZA) Rabbi Josh Weinberg wrote. "Looking at recent events in Israel. I do indeed feel heart-broken. The passage of the Nation-State Bill significantly undermines the strength of Israel's democracy, changing the nature of the country I love."

As so many declarations that weaken democracy do, the bill appeals to patriotism by statements such as: Hattikva is the national anthem; the flag and the menorah are the national symbols. These statements serve to make anyone that opposes the main purpose of the bill appear to be unpatriotic. The nation-state law also includes clauses stating that a "united Jerusalem" is the capital of Israel and that Hebrew is the country's official language, downgrading Arabic to a special status.. Another section says that "the state sees the development of Jewish settlement as a national value and will act to encourage and promote its establishment and consolidation." A further controversial clause stipulates that the state will invest resources in preserving Israel's affiliation to world Jewry, but not in Israel. This wording was demanded by the ultra-Orthodox parties to prevent the state from linking up with the Reform and Conservative communities in Israel.

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu. Celebrating the passage of the bill stated "This is a defining moment – long live the State of Israel." Netanyahu further said that "122 years after Herzl made his vision known, with this law we determined the founding principle of our existence. Israel is the nation state of the Jewish people, and respects the rights of all of its citizens." The prime minister also said that "in the Middle East, only Israel respects [rights]. This is our country, the Jewish state. In recent years there have been those who have tried to undermine that and question the principles of our existence. Today we made it into law: This is the country, the language, the anthem and flag." He made no mention of democracy.

Opposition head Isaac Herzog also spoke up at the plenum, saying that "it's a little sad to me that the last speech I make will be against this kind of backdrop. The question is whether the law will harm or benefit Israel. History will determine. I really hope that we won't find the fine balance between a Jewish and democratic state to be hurt."

The Arab Knesset members were not so circumspect and protested the passage of the law, and lawmaker Ayman Odeh, chairman of the Arab Joint List, released a statement saying that Israel "declared it does not want us here" and that it had "passed a law of Jewish supremacy and told us that we will always be second-class citizens." Another Arab MK confronted Netanyahu with, "Why do you fear the Arabic language?"

Much of the information about the Nation-State Law was taken from the Times of Israel. I know that the law evokes strong emotions on both sides and I welcome comments from anyone who does not agree with the opinion of the minority in the Knesset, and the opinion of those in the Diaspora who hope Israel will become a democratic and pluralistic Jewish homeland that can serve as a model for other democracies.

My High Holy Days Past, Present, Future

I remember my six year old son James (he was Jimmy back then) playing Kol Nidre on his half size violin for the first time – he played a duet with his Uncle Rob on cello. I remember my husband, Max, falling asleep on the bema when he was supposed to help Cantor Newman off the floor in front of the ark. I remember my mother beaming with pride as she watched her daughter sing in the Choir and her son-in-law representing the Temple as Temple President. I remember my daughter, the quiet Sudakow, radiating joy at being a part of the Temple Beth David family. I remember Kol Nidre, with all past Presidents standing on the bema, all except one – and the space that was left for the one who wasn't there, an aching, screamingly painful empty space where once had stood Max Sudakow. I remember as I smile and cry simultaneously.

And here I am, in the present. My seven High Holy Day choir notebooks have been replaced by one, really heavy ipad. I sing next to Laurie Schneider, with whom I am joined at the hip. I have the joy, finally, of singing at the Huntington Beach Pier for second day Rosh Hashanah services. Family dynamics have changed with loss, illness, distance from home. Now Sarah and I hold on to each other tightly. I think of the extraordinary friends and family that surround me every day.

My future cannot be recalled. It has yet to come. But, I look forward to eons more High Holy Days, seeing Sarah in the congregation wearing her new butterfly tallit, a trip to Israel special, and who knows, perhaps a next generation Sudakow playing Kol Nidre.

What are your High Holy Day remembrances?

Shalom and love,

Paige Berzak

You know her as the older daughter of Barbara and Scott Berzak....as the big sister of Rachel Berzak. But here she is, standing alone, grown and ready to take on the world. Paige was born in Fountain Valley, California, and grew up a stone's throw from Temple Beth David, in Garden Grove. Her Mom moved around often as a child and wanted her girls to grow up in one place.

Paige was a quiet, shy little girl, so she was enrolled in softball at the age of six in the hopes that this would help her become more outgoing. No one knew at the time how important softball would become to both Paige and Rachel. Paige continued to play recreational softball until she was twelve years old when she joined a travel ball team and went all over the country! At the same time, she was elected to the junior varsity softball team for two years at Pacifica High, and went on to play Varsity softball for the next two years. A very talented athlete! In fact, Paige was SO talented that she won a full four year athletic scholarship to Old Dominican College in New Jersey, and played softball for another four years as the star at first base.

Upon graduation from Old Dominican, Paige had hoped to study physical therapy, but the graduate programs around the country were impacted. Instead, Paige came back to California and earned her teaching credential. She now substitutes regularly at the middle and high school levels in Garden Grove Unified School District. Both GGUSD and her students are fortunate.

Now Paige is becoming a force at Temple Beth David. She was once one of Choir's two 'babies', having joined right after she had become a bat mitzvah. Well, the 'baby' has grown up to become a co-president of the Choir! She has just completed a year-long New Leader program at the Alpert Jewish Community Center in Long Beach, having been recommended by Matt Paretsky, a Temple Beth David member and leader, himself. The year-long course has taught Paige how to be a good leader and how to become involved in the Jewish community.

Paige loves to read, is getting involved with the Beth David 20's/30's group, and is taking life one step at a time right now, as she sees what is beginning to open up for her. She loves that Temple Beth David is giving her the opportunity to be involved at such a young age. And of course, she LOVES the music.

WHAT Non-Partisan Voter Registration & Engagement Training with the League of Women Voters

WHEN Sunday, August 19, 2018. 1 pm

WHERE Temple Beth David
6100 Hefley St., Westminster

WHY Help Beth David become a 100% voting congregation

Beth David is organizing our voter registration and engagement efforts and we need YOU!

At this training, you will learn to:

- Conduct voter registration (helping people to register for the first time or update their registration)
- Educate congregants on the importance of voting and the voting process
- Employ strategies to encourage and increase voter turnout
- Specifically engage young and first-time voters

Help us engage and mobilize our congregation to vote. The goal of nonpartisan voter engagement is NOT to elect candidates or parties, but it is to increase our ability to advance policies that reflect our Jewish values.

Guests are welcome (they don't have to be Jewish)

For more information and to RSVP, contact Debbie Lelchuk at

Tashlich at the Beach

Our Temple Beth David community will gather on Monday, September 10, at 4 pm to renew the ancient custom of casting sins into the sea. We'll use breadcrumbs (provided by the Temple) to represent our sins, which the ocean will carry away.

We'll meet at the north end of Bolsa Chica State Beach, dressed for the beach (bring warm clothes - it gets cold and windy) and equipped with beach toys, blankets, and chairs. (Lifeguard Station #28)

You may want to bring dinner and celebrate together.

Monday, September 10, 2018
at 4 p.m.

Goodshop

Goodsearch

To Our Temple Beth David Family:

As most of you are aware, our Temple depends on donations to deliver the high quality of services to all of you. We understand that many of you are still struggling with the recent economic downturn. However, we have come up with a way that will allow you to donate to the Temple without spending a penny of your own money, plus you will actually save money on many purchases that you normally make!

We would like to introduce you to Goodshop and Goodsearch. Goodshop works with more than 5,000 stores that will provide all of you with discounts on what you normally buy and then will donate up to 20% of the purchase price to the Temple. You will simply click on a link on the Temple Home Page, start saving money for your family and help the Temple out as well! We have included an easy step-by-step signup guide with this letter. Here are some examples of companies that participate in the program:

Target, Macy's, Nordstrom, Neiman Marcus, Sears, Sak's, Apple, Old Navy, the Gap, Amazon, Office Depot, Petco, Staples, Dell, The Limited, Holiday Inn, Groupon, Levi's, Lands End, Best Buy, 1-800 Flowers, 24 Hour Fitness, and Victoria's Secret.

These are companies that we all normally shop at, and by simply clicking on the link on the Temple website, you will be saving money for your family and actually raising money for the Temple. In addition, you can also save money by dining out at participating restaurants and, at the same time, raising donations for the Temple as well. It's simple, free and easy to use, and the average family using the site over a year will actually raise more than $350 annually for the Temple. Multiply that by our 300 families and we will raise more than $100,000 per year for the Temple! This program really works. Goodshop has raised more than $11 million for charitable organizations with this program.

Likewise, we are also rolling out Goodsearch. By doing your internet searches through Goodsearch.com, which links with Yahoo, the Temple will receive a penny for every internet search. If you can imagine how many internet searches you do, and your families do, this will also add up to real money for the Temple.

We encourage all of you to participate and to help strengthen our Temple for all of us and for the generations to come.

With best regards,

Neil Kornswiet
