 Rabbi Myers

Dec/Jan 2018-2019

I'm most at peace when I'm outside. I love the swell of the ocean waves, the perspective I get on top of a mountain, the beauty of my flowering plants, and viewing different kinds of trees. I have a Jacaranda and Mulberry tree out front. In the late spring, I get a myriad of lavender flowers on the branches of the Jacaranda and then they fall like snowflakes onto my driveway. The Mulberry tree has lots of leaves that shade part of the front and at its apex, I get to pick its juicy bumpy fruit. It is so sweet that my friend Ruth comes over to pick at the first harvest.

Maybe I spend too much time looking at the screen of my phone or computer, but when I'm outside appreciating nature, I feel recharged. We actually have a minor holiday in Judaism that is designed to connect up with nature and more specifically with trees. On Monday, January 21, we will celebrate Tu B'Shevat, the New Year for the trees. The name is actually its Hebrew date that translates as the 15th day of Shevat. In the Talmud, the rabbis believed that trees are judged on this day. Hopefully with enough rainfall, they will blossom in the spring and produce healthy fruit in the summer. The mystics liked to view Tu B'Shevat as an opportunity to connect with the changing seasons, fertility, and God. For modern Zionists, it's a chance to plant a tree in Israel as our pioneers did in transforming the desert into the flourishing country it is today.

So here's how I like to ideal celebrate the New Year for the trees. I always plant a tree or two in Israel through the Jewish National Fund. They are $18 dollars and you can do it in honor or memory of a loved one. <http://usa.jnf.org/jnf-tree-planting-center/>

I put roasted almonds, dried apricots, dates, figs, and olives out for me and the kids to have a taste of Israel. If I have time, I plant something new on my property. And perhaps this year, I'll treat my tenth graders to a mystical Tu B'Shevat seder where they will sip white grape juice as it transforms red and nosh on fruits and nuts that represent degrees of holiness. For sure, on Sunday night, January 20, I'll be gazing at the sky and hopefully seeing the full moon of Shevat.

There is so much beauty in our world. There are so many reason to celebrate life, our world, and the incredible trees surrounding us. May your Tu B'Shevat be delightful and meaningful.

President's Message

Rabbi Myers has been such an important part of our congregation and our community for the past 15 years. Her leadership and guidance have helped to navigate Beth David through choppy waters and led us to celebrate great milestones and achievements. A pillar in the local Jewish community, as well as a leader amongst her peers, Rabbi Myers always puts Beth David first. Her sermons inspire us. Her warmth is infectious. And I bet she knows each and every one of your names.

That is why I am happy to announce that the board has approved a new contract with Rabbi Myers, which will keep her at Beth David for many more years. We are confident that with Rabbi Myers's leadership, compassion, and vision, that Beth David will thrive. So as we move forward, let's all congratulate and thank Rabbi Myers for all she does, and let's look forward to more to come. There is no doubt that our future just got a little brighter.

Sincerely,

Eric Schiffer, President

November was a busy month for Brotherhood with three events. We can be proud of how well they went.

By any measure, the Chanukah Carnival was a success. The children had fun with the booths, the video games, and the inflatables. The food, hot dogs, hamburgers, and chicken salad went over well and were supplemented by Sisterhood's latkes. So many pitched in to help, I may miss some. Matt Salzman, and Robin Harrison did planning and ordered inflatables and the game truck, and followed through on them and a variety of other actions during the carnival. Food was prepared and sold by Lee Netzer, Howard Toby, Steve Harris, David Fisher, Isaac Indich, and Rick Katz. Jeff and Sue LeBoff, Cathy Niederman, and Jan Klein sold tickets. Scott Telford handled the prizes, helped with food and generally filled in where needed. Brotherhood also thanks our generous sponsors who make things possible. Our Platinum Sponsors: Diane & Howard Spielman, Chris Taxier & Sharon, Marcie, Deb and families, Frieda Caplan, Anne Hoogasian, Eugene Broscow, Fran DeKovner.

Our Gold Sponsors: Carolyn & Maury Rosenberg, Jeff & Sue Leboff, the Jarrick Family, Sidney Laham Hallie & Joel Berman, Garry Plotkin, Charlie & Cathy Niederman, Robin & Mulu Harrison.

Our Silver Sponsors: Mickey Lewin, the Lechuk Family, Florence Sudakow and Steve Harris & Yu-Fen Chiang Harris.

Brotherhood, led by Lee and his wife Elaine, Mulu Skinner- Harrison, Scott, and Jeff provided the dinner for the Veteran's Synaplex. The Synaplex turned out so well we hope it will be repeated.

Professor Donald Schwartz provided background and did a Q and A for the "Jewish Journey-America" video and brunch. The brunch was the vision of past president, Steve Harris. It was a well presented story of Jews in America. Lee, Jeff, and Mulu prepared the bunch.

On Sunday morning December 16th Brotherhood will present an important and timely brunch, "Emergency Preparedness Seminar". Recent events in Pittsburgh and Anchorage have made us aware that we all need to be prepared for manmade and natural disasters. David Baroway, an emergency preparedness consultant in company with a Westminster Police Department officer will present the seminar. Be there to learn the best strategies to greatly improve you and your family's chances to safely survive emergencies.

SISTERHOOD MATTERS...

I hope that everyone had a warm and wonderful Chanukah! Our Chanukah carnival was very early this year, but it was nonetheless a day of successful fun and fundraising. So many people helped, please know you are all appreciated, but too many to list. So I will just highlight and thank our chairs: Lisa McCall and Anne Farber coordinated the vendors, Renee Dorfman and Eileen Tobey led the latke baking in the kitchen, Mickey Lewin was responsible for the bake sale, and Linda Cohen and Rachelle Wilson chaired the Judaica shop. Thank you all for jobs well done!

January will bring some excellent and varied programs. On Saturday evening, January 12, Sisterhood joins with Brotherhood for a dinner for all of our paid members. There is still time to pay your Sisterhood or Brotherhood dues and join us for this delightful evening!

On Sunday, January 13th at 9:15 AM, there will be a brunch with the first of our Sisterhood speaker series – Depression: What is it Exactly and How Can I Help? A difficult topic to be sure, but one that touches so many people, it is sure to be worthwhile. We have intentionally scheduled this for a Sunday morning while our children are in school, so parents can be available to attend.

Finally, we will close out the month with a trip to Pechanga on January 29th. Always a fun day!

For more details and RSVP information, look for flyers in this Megillah and in Shavuah Tov. I hope to see many of you at these events!

Shalom,
Laurie Schneider

ARZA By Charlie Niederman

Association of Reform Zionists of America

Dec/Jan

Charlie Niederman, VP, Planning & Development

This week the Israel National Police, after a lengthy investigation, announced that they had sent a recommendation to the Attorney General for an indictment of Prime Minister Netanyahu on a third set of corruption charges. It was done despite controversial legislation passed last year to prohibit police from publishing their recommendations in investigations of public officials. However the law was passed while the current case was under investigation.

The response in the government split along party lines with the opposition calling for the Prime Minister to resign. The coalition members felt that the police were conspiring against Netanyahu and that the chief should not have made the announcement. They believe that the charges were politically motivated. Since this is the third corruption case against the Prime Minister pending action by the Attorney General, it was not a surprise. But, it is another problem for the ruling coalition which now has only 61 members in the 120 seat Knesset. The resignation of Avigdor Lieberman as Defense Minister rattled the coalition and left a vacancy which is being filled by Netanyahu. Many analysts believe that the government will not survive until the scheduled election next October, and that an election could be called as soon as late February.

With regard to the US peace proposal those involved are recommending that President Trump release the plan in February. However, if early elections are called, the belief is that the announcement will be further delayed because it might make the election a referendum on the peace plan.

Culture Minister, Miri Regev, pushed legislation that would grant her the power to withhold public funding for cultural organizations "that are working against the principles of the state." This attack on Israel's democracy has been delayed by two members of the ruling coalition voting against it. The above has been drawn primarily from Israel Times

Now is the time that we should consider joining ARZA. Rabbi Josh Weinberg, President of ARZA reminded us the role that we can play.

In Israel, in order to be a realist, you must believe in miracles." ~David Ben Gurion famously uttered the above quote as he eschewed the miraculous establishment of the State of Israel. This week we marked 71 years since that fateful day when, miraculously, on November 29, 1947, thirty three nations voted as part of the United Nations General Assembly in favor of a Jewish State. No doubt one of the great modern miracles of our time.

Recently 25 Knesset members joined a last-minute gathering jointly led by ARZA and the Conservative movement and agreed that it is upon us to step up and redefine what it means to be Jewish in the Jewish State. It is up to us to show that despite the miracles we must not depend on miracles. We must bring the day. That is why we ask for your support. That is why on Hanukkah we continue to fight for our Freedom and our Religious Equality. That is why we have the opportunity now to expand our reach and say that the miracle of having a Jewish State goes hand in hand with the miracles of democracy, equality, and tolerance. You can join at <https://www.arza.org/join>

Two Men Two Traditions

It was the night before Christmas...it was always the night before Christmas when I went with my father to buy the least straggly looking tree left on the lot. Each year we brought one home, never before Christmas Eve, by edict of my mother, and the two of us lovingly decorated it. My father was in charge of the magical sparking lights that danced in beautiful colors when plugged in. I was in charge of the icicles and taking the glass bulbs out of their boxes, and then carefully hanging them on the tree, turning this straggly, unwanted tree into something beautiful. All the while, my orthodox Jewish, but no longer practicing, mother stayed far away in the kitchen, taking no part in the living room tradition, but making a single contribution each year by baking a batch of delicious cookies. As I got older, I was allowed to stay up and watch midnight mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral on TV curled up against my father, all the lights off except the tree lights. One week later, at the end of New Year's Day, my mother would order, "Get that tree out of here," and I would be resigned to my task. This tradition continued through my college years, until I left home, into the arms of my husband.

And happy day, a new tradition was born. Now, the lights sparkled in the kitchen, with all of the family together, including a mother, now a grandma, two wonderful children, and a husband and wife. The sparkle came from the flickering flames, as we lighted the menorahs. The delicious smell of latkes, instead of cookies, came as the greatest latke maker, Max, presided over the frying pan. And we all sang silly Chanukah songs. Max was excused from singing as his repertoire consisted of exactly one note, which he sang over and over, thinking he was creating a melody. For Grandma, Sarah, and James, this tradition was magical. For me, a little bittersweet....memories and traditions became intertwined.

Both men are gone now. But they left me with sparkling light, delicious tastes, and most of all, unconditional love.

Happy Chanukah, everyone!

Shalom and love,

Have you Met.....

The Halbreich Family

Some people go to Disneyland, “the happiest place on earth”, when visitors come to town, or when there is something special to celebrate. The Halbreiches, Mitch, Kelley, Lizzie, and Vivi, are part of the Disneyland family...can you imagine that? It is their ‘happiest place on earth’ whenever they need it to be.

Mitch and Kelley met in California, but both were born in Long Beach, 3,000 miles apart. Yes, Mitch was born in Long Beach, New York, while Kelley was born in Long Beach, California. So, of course, they were destined to meet. Even their college courses were similar. Both majored in Business and actively use their degrees in their professional lives. Mitch is in sales at Enterprise Car Rentals. I know, because at one time, he actually helped me rent a car! And Kelley, well, she is Senior Leader at Disneyland’s California Adventure, in the Retail Operations Division. Woo Hoo.....Disneyland, here they come.

And they go to Disneyland and just about everywhere else, with their two daughters, Lizzie, age 14, and Vivi, age 12. Before becoming a bat mitzvah, Lizzie sang in the Junior Choir. Vivi, who is still studying, continues to sing in the Junior Choir on family nights. Mom and Dad give back to Beth David, as well. Mitch has been a Temple Beth David board member, and Kelley is active in the Beth David Sisterhood.

As a family, the Halbreiches love going on new adventures. They especially like hanging out at home with their dogs. And if you know them on Facebook, you will know they recently moved into a new home. The dogs, of course, demanded more room!

Temple Beth David is special to the Halbreiches, just as they are special to Beth David. They all love that there is something for everyone at Beth David. You can be as involved as you want to be or choose not to. Either way you are a valued member of the congregation.

Upcoming Mitzvot

Ben Raymond Abraham will be called to the Torah at Beth David as a Bar Mitzvah on January 26th.

Ben is a 7th grader attending Bell Intermediate School. He is active in the Animal Amigos club. He played the trumpet and was active in the temple Jr. Choir. He likes to play Just Dance and spend time with his friends. For his mitzvah project, Ben is helping Animal Amigos protect animals and conserve the environment through beach clean-ups and helping at the local animal shelter. Ben is the son of Rachel Abraham and the grandson of Susan Abraham and the late Dr. Raymond Abraham.

EDUCATION & AWARENESS

Looking for Breast and Ovarian Cancer Survivor Speakers!

Temple Beth David's Social Action Committee is sponsoring a Sharsheret program, "What's Jewish about Breast and Ovarian Cancer?" on Sunday, March 10th at 10am.

We are looking for congregants to share their experiences as patients, survivors, caretakers, or genetic counselors.

Never spoken publicly before? Sharsheret staff members are happy to help you prepare your remarks and can offer speaker training!

If you are interested in participating, please contact Thea Weintraub by January 15th at (714)962-9756.

Sharsheret provides personalized support for women and their families touched by breast and ovarian cancer, as well as those with increased genetic risk (all free, confidential, and convenient) featuring:

- One-on-one psychosocial support with a trained social worker via phone and email
- Tailored peer support matches
- Toys and picture book for moms with young children
- Customized survivorship kit with care plan
- Support for family and friends
- Beauty kits for women impacted by treatment
- Specialized support for women living with metastatic cancer
- Consultations with a genetic counselor and support for those with hereditary risk
- Community education programming

If you're looking for support for yourself or a loved one, or would like to plan another educational event, please contact Aimee Sax, Sharsheret's CA Program Coordinator, at asax@sharsheret.org or (310)409-2330.

Goodshop

Goodsearch

To Our Temple Beth David Family:

As most of you are aware, our Temple depends on donations to deliver the high quality of services to all of you. We understand that many of you are still struggling with the recent economic downturn. However, we have come up with a way that will allow you to donate to the Temple without spending a penny of your own money, plus you will actually save money on many purchases that you normally make!

We would like to introduce you to Goodshop and Goodsearch. Goodshop works with more than 5,000 stores that will provide all of you with discounts on what you normally buy and then will donate up to 20% of the purchase price to the Temple. You will simply click on a link on the Temple Home Page, start saving money for your family and help the Temple out as well! We have included an easy step-by-step signup guide with this letter. Here are some examples of companies that participate in the program:

Target, Macy's, Nordstrom, Neiman Marcus, Sears, Sak's, Apple, Old Navy, the Gap, Amazon, Office Depot, Petco, Staples, Dell, The Limited, Holiday Inn, Groupon, Levi's, Lands End, Best Buy, 1-800 Flowers, 24 Hour Fitness, and Victoria's Secret.

These are companies that we all normally shop at, and by simply clicking on the link on the Temple website, you will be saving money for your family and actually raising money for the Temple. In addition, you can also save money by dining out at participating restaurants and, at the same time, raising donations for the Temple as well. It's simple, free and easy to use, and the average family using the site over a year will actually raise more than $350 annually for the Temple. Multiply that by our 300 families and we will raise more than $100,000 per year for the Temple! This program really works. Goodshop has raised more than $11 million for charitable organizations with this program.

Likewise, we are also rolling out Goodsearch. By doing your internet searches through Goodsearch.com, which links with Yahoo, the Temple will receive a penny for every internet search. If you can imagine how many internet searches you do, and your families do, this will also add up to real money for the Temple.

We encourage all of you to participate and to help strengthen our Temple for all of us and for the generations to come.

With best regards,

Neil Kornswiet
