Celebrating our Synagogue

Rabbi Myers

May/June 2019

It's nice to look back on this past year. Our High Holy Days were beautiful with the voices of our choir and Cantor Linder. Music always has and continues to be our forte. Coming together for Lay led minyan on Saturday morning is a wonderful opportunity to connect with others in an intimate setting. I continue to enjoy having our Body, Mind, & Spirit Shabbat where we eat a good breakfast and then walk, hike, do yoga, paint, draw, or kayak. And our Friday nights whether they are our family service with our enthusiastic Junior choir, Choir night, Shabbat alive, or Torah service are wonderful ways to welcome the Sabbath.

I continue to be amazed by our Sisterhood and Brotherhood programming. From their informative brunches, social programs, and mitzvah work, they continue to give our members a place and home to celebrate and develop lifelong friendships. Adult learning continues to inspire through our lecture series, Torah study, and Lunch and Learn. And our holidays, whether we are noshing in our succah, dancing with the Torahs at Simchat Torah, lighting the menorah at Hanukkah, laughing and acting out the Purim story, telling the story of the Exodus at Passover, or celebrating the revelation of Torah on Shavout are always meaningful.

I'm especially proud of both our preschool and Jewish school. Our ECLC is an excellent education for our youngest of children and gets them in great shape for elementary school in an environment infused with Jewish values. Our Jewish school starts in Kindergarten and goes through confirmation in tenth grade, not only prepares our children for their Bnei Mitzvah but fosters in them a great love for Judaism.

The thing I love most about Beth David is how intergenerational we are. We have babies who are just months old and members going strong into their nineties. Our members are not only of different ages but also varying stages of life. We have singles in every decade, couples, and families. Our strength comes from our diversity and from the willingness of so many to invest in our community, in our home.

I would like to invite you to join us for an end of year celebration at our congregational meeting on May 23 at 6:00 p.m. There will be dinner as we recognize Robin Harrison and Gloria Schwartz. Please RSVP to the Temple office.

I'm proud of Beth David and I am grateful to all of you for joining, participating, and helping our synagogue be the best it can be.

President's Message

Dear congregants,

It is with a heavy heart that we find ourselves, yet again, sending a message of support to our fellow Jews in Poway, as well as in any city, county, state, or nation around the world who have been subjected to these senseless and tragic events fueled by hatred and weakness. All are attacks on pluralism, religion, and humanity itself. Please know that security at Beth David has always been, and will always remain, our utmost priority. We have updated our security protocols to maintain the safety of our facility and our members, which has included upgraded perimeter fencing, ballistic resistant doors and windows, lighting upgrades, as well as restricted ingress and egress to the facility including the use of Ring systems. We have also updated Beth David's Emergency Preparedness Manual and are continually in touch with Westminster Police Department, who has stepped-up their patrols of our premises. All of this is in addition to our volunteers who remain stationed at the doors during services and gatherings to monitor who comes in. Staff, teachers, and members of our board attended a security training workshop this year where we reviewed protocols for active shooting threats, in addition to fire and earthquake drills.

For your peace of mind, please know that there have been no threats to our synagogue, but that we nonetheless continue taking every precaution during these challenging times. Please help us to be vigilant by closing any open doors or gates you may see. Also, if you see someone you do not recognize, inquire as to why they are here, or report it to the school or office. While it certainly is understandable that some may become fearful of going to houses of worship after events such as this, we know that those who seek to inflict terror upon others want exactly that: to instill fear. What makes us who we are is living by our values, from strength to strength, as proud Americans and Jews.

Looking forward to seeing you soon,

Sincerely,

Eric Schiffer, President

The Brotherhood Brunch on March 31st "Blame it on the Bat Mitzvah, A Compton Family's Journey of Conversion to Judaism" was very well attended. Three Harrisons presented the story of their journey. Shoshana described her trips to OC dance lessons and the friendship she developed with the Twisselmann girls. She told how attending the Twisselmann Bat Mitzvah so impressed her and her family that it began their journey of conversion. Robin and Mulu rounded out many details including their long courtship. Thanks to Lee Netzer for presenting his usual fine brunch with the help of Ted Cohen, Jeff LeBoff, Steve Loken, and Scott Telford.

Thanks to the many Brotherhood members who helped in the work of clearing out Temple storage spaces under the leadership of Alan Jarrick. The storerooms have been reorganized and now have easy access and open space.

Next for us in May is the Mother's Day Brunch, our tribute to mothers who are invited to be our guests with a free brunch and a rose. We hope to see many mothers, grandmothers, and some great grandmothers. It is always a special event, and we will once again be regaled by the Youth Choir, led by Sharon Matalon. We hope to see many of you there. Check the weekly Shavua Tov and make your reservations early. Mom won't need to cook and we will keep the price affordable and the event enjoyable.

SISTERHOOD MATTERS...

Dictionary.com defines Sisterhood as: 1. An organization of women with a common interest, as for social, charitable, business, or political purposes, and 2. Congenial relationship or companionship among women: mutual female esteem, concern, support, etc.

I believe both of these definitions reflect our Beth David Sisterhood. We exist to support our temple for charitable and social purposes. We raise money for the temple, we serve in many ways, helping our temple family and the greater community. And we develop congenial relationships, friendships by which we can support each other through times of joy or sadness.

We have an active, vibrant Sisterhood organization, with a large number of women who have paid their dues this year to be Sisterhood members. I sincerely appreciate each one of you. However, the reality is, the actual work is done by a very small percentage of the members, mostly the board and a few others. I understand that all of us lead very busy lives, and I am not asking any one person to do everything. I am just asking that each person do one thing. Please consider, in the next year, stepping up, and volunteering for something for Sisterhood. If you see an event advertised that you are interested in, and plan to attend, maybe you could call or email the chairperson and offer to help. That would be such a huge thing; if you've never chaired an event, you can't imagine how much each person's help is appreciated! Additionally, as with so many things in life, you may find that with active participation, you gain much more than you give! If you're feeling a little shy, please feel free to contact me, at Sisterhood@templebethdavid.org or my personal email or phone number in the temple directory. I would be delighted to chat on the phone with or meet for coffee any temple member who would like to get involved.

Sisterhood's final event this year will be our Donor brunch. This is sure to be a lovely affair, and there is still time to earn a donor, if you haven't as yet. Raffle tickets are being distributed and you can earn donor credit for tickets purchased.

I hope we can grow our active Sisterhood, and I hope to meet many new participants in the near future!

B'shalom,
Laurie Schneider

Thank you to Mulu Skinner-Harrison for coordinating Sisterhood's providing breakfast for the temple-wide Mitzvah Day!

Message from Membership Chair

It is almost here....the second annual Beth David Membership Celebration Dinner and Congregational Meeting. Mark your calendars for Thursday, May 23rd. Doors open at 5:30, followed by entertainment and then a delicious dinner catered by Kung Pao Bowl. There will be gift cards raffled off and perhaps a few new logo-related goodies to go with the cards. Not to mention that we are honoring two very special people this year, GLORIA SCHWARTZ and ROBIN HARRISON, both of whom do so much for Beth David.

And the best part of this wonderful upcoming event is that there is NO COST, I repeat, NO COST for you or your family members/guests to attend. It is the Temple's way of saying toda raba to all of its congregation/family members for helping make Beth David the great home it is.

The sooner you RSVP, the better. We look forward to seeing all of you at the dinner.

Shalom and love,

Have you Met.....

Sarah Gipoor

We are happy to welcome Sarah Gipoor as our new Education Director at the Beth David Jewish School!

Sarah is a familiar face around our synagogue as the Gipoor family has been a part of the Beth David community for many years. Sarah was a student at our school years ago and is currently teaching a class here on Sundays. Sarah earned a Bachelor of Arts from the American Jewish University and a Master Degree from Pepperdine. Sarah has been involved with the Jewish community for many years since graduating college. She was a West Coast High School Coordinator for StandWithUs. In this role, she managed and mentored Jewish high school students on issues relating to Israel. She also was the Education and Program Director for the Bureau of Jewish Education of Orange County in which she organized and led various educational programs for Jewish teenagers. In addition to that, she was a founding board member of the Pico Shul for young professionals in Los Angeles and is a board member of the Chai Society for young Jewish professionals of Orange County. We know that with Sarah's background, skills, and warm personality, she will be a great new addition to lead the Beth David Jewish School!

Charlie Niederman, VP, Planning & Development

Israel's election is now history, and Israel's President Rivlin has asked Prime Minister Netanyahu to form a new coalition government. The election was very close, Netanyahu's Likud Party won 36 seats (one more than in the last Knesset) and the Blue and White Coalition won 35 seats. The results showed that the center and left parties had 55 seats, and the right and far right had 65. An item of note is that the New Right Coalition led by former Education Minister Naftali Bennett, considered by some to be a future right wing leader, did not get the 3.25% of the vote needed to receive any seats in the Knesset.

The feelings of the liberal majority of American Jews are best described by Rabbi Rick Jacobs, President of our Union for Reform Judaism (URJ) in his official statement on the election results. "Israelis voted and as always, we applaud Israeli democracy and hope that campaign rhetoric fades away as the new government is formed. The Israeli elections show that the country is divided on issues of critical importance to the future of the State. We congratulate Prime Minister Netanyahu and look forward to a productive dialogue with his new government, even as we continue to speak out for the enduring Jewish values of justice and equality. We have deep concern that the new government will deepen the discrimination against the non-orthodox streams of Judaism, continue to undermine the democratic values and institutions of Israel, and discriminate against Arab citizens of Israel.

We join our Israeli partners in the Israel Movement for Reform and Progressive Judaism in demanding that the government represent all of Israel's citizens. We are especially concerned by the statements made by Prime Minister Netanyahu on the eve of the election calling for annexation of the West Bank Jewish settlements, a unilateral move that would make a two-state solution impossible and render the Jewish democratic State untenable."

Coalition building talks for the new government are beginning with Netanyahu proposing that the Kulanu Party with 4 Knesset seats, a break away from his Likud Party, reunite with Likud. Thus far he has made nni progress in those negotiations Still hanging over Netanyahu's head are three counts of fraud and breach of trust, and a count of bribery with which the Attorney General is planning to charge him. But as negotiations proceed in the building of the new coalition, the Union of Right-Wing Parties has made it clear that it will advance an amendment to the current Knesset immunity law so that any MK will automatically be granted immunity from prosecution unless the Knesset votes to lift the immunity.

With regard to the US Middle East peace plan, during questioning by four different congressional committees over the past two weeks Secretary of State, Mike Pompeo, did his best to reveal as little as possible about the what President Trump calls "the deal of the century." Still some things may be gleaned from his testimony. As for timing, little was leaked, but some Israeli newspapers are guessing mid-June, after the Jewish and Muslim holidays.

Pompeo said the creation of a Palestinian state, cornerstone of US policy for decades was a "failed, old set of ideas not worth re-treading". More alarming, he voiced no opposition to the unilateral annexation of all or parts of the occupied Palestinian West Bank by Israel, something Prime Minister Netanyahu has said he would do.

The administration's embrace of the Israeli government's right-wing positions has alarmed liberal American Jewish organizations. "What they've done so far tells you what they intend to lay out," says Jeremy Ben-Ami of the J Street lobby group. "They have no intention to lay out what could conceivably resolve the conflict. Instead they will tie American government positions to those of the farthest right of Israel's political spectrum."

Most of this article has been researched and paraphrased from the Times of Israel, and the New York Times.

Since my next article will not be written until late June, the things described above will have evolved, so if you have questions or wish to discuss them contact me. An important way to stay involved is by donating online to The Association of Reform Zionist (ARZA),
